The Devol Family (Continued)

WILLIAM DEVOL in Braintree, Mass. 1643, died 1680.
His wife Elizabeth died 1722. Their Children:-
John, Joseph, Jonathan, and Benjamin.
JONATHAN married Hannah Audley. He bought land at Tiverton, R. I., but never moved there. He died 1709.
Among their eleven children was JOSEPH, born at Dartmouth, Mass. a Quaker. As related above, married MARY SOULE, grand-daughter of GEORGE SOULE, who came on The MAYFLOWER. Among the seven children of JOSEPH DEVOL and MARY SOULE, the youngest, born Aug. 4, 1711.
(By another record Aug. 11, 1716.) was JONATHAN, born at Dartmouth. He married PRICILLA ALLEN, Apr. 28, 1738.
The, moved to Tiverton, R. I. in 1740. Their Children:-
Gilbert; Stephen b-1745; Jonathan, b-1755 at Tiverton.
(The above three arrived with "The First Settlers" at Marietta, Ohio. Apr. 7, 1788. On the way west, in Pa.
at Simrell's Ferry, Jonathan Devol was employed by Gen. Putnam, to supervise the building of The Ohio Co's boat, called "The Mayflower Second", on which the Pioneer's floated to Marietta, Ohio.)
Silas Devol born 1743 at Tiverton, served in Continental Navey, was captured. Died in Prison ship.

The Devol Family.

Mary Soule, a daughter of George (2) and Deborah, born in Duxbury, Mass., was married to JOSEPH DEVOL, son of Jonathan and Hannah Audley Devol, all of Dartmouth, Mass., grandson of William Devol. The evidence of this marriage as given in the "Mayflower Descendants" is as follows: "In 1706, Joseph Devol and wife Mary (Soule) Devol gave a receipt to her brother.

William Soule, as executor of his father's, George Soule's, will." She had books and apparel, £8, a bed, pair worsted combs (cards), pewter, a warming-pan, cow, lamb, hogshead of cider. Both Mary and Joseph Devol died in 1726. They had issue as follows:

I. CHRISTOPHER DEVOL, born Jan. 27, 1700, married PATIENCE (???), whose will was dated October 17, 1759, at Crumelbow Precinct, Dutchess County, N. Y., proved Dec. 24, 1759 (No. 463 D. New York Calendar of Wills). This Christopher first lived in Dartmouth, Mass., then in Tiverton, R. I., 1739-1747. II. LYDIA DEVOL, born April 3, 1701.

III. JOSEPH DEVOL, born Jan. 15, 1703.

IV. MARY DEVOL, born July 14, 1705.

V. HANNAH DEVOL, born April 4, 1707.

VI. BENJAMIN DEVOL, born Jan. 26, 1709; married Aug. 23, 1731, by Philip Taber, to SARAH MOSHER, a daughter of John and Experience (Kirby) Mosher, said Experience being the daughter of Richard Kirby and Patience Gifford, daughter of William Gifford of Sandwich. Dissatisfied with his name, Benjamin seems to have changed it to "Devel," and some descendants have followed suit. He lived in Tiverton, R. I., until 1742, when he sold his lands and removed to Devel's Hollow, Oblong, Dutchess County, N. Y., near Wing Station, "one of the choicest pieces of land that was laid open by settlement of the dispute concerning boundary between Connecticut and New York, where his descendants still live." Benjamin Devel died in the Oblong Jan. 19, 1792. Will dated "24th 3d Month, 1788," and is recorded at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Nine children were born to Benjamin and Sarah (Mosher) Devol. (1) GEORGE DEVOL, born 1732; died 1813. (2) JOSEPH DEVOL, born 1735; died 1818. (3) JOHN DEVOL, died in 1806.
(4) BENJAMIN DEVOL, born 1741; died 1813.
(5) JONATHAN DEVOL, born 1749; died 1823.

assurance of good accommodation, wee were going in, But meeting his two daughters, as I supposed, twins, they so neerly resembled each other, both in features and habit, and look't as old as the Divel himselfe, and quite as Ugly We desired entertain't, but could hardly get a word out of 'um, till with our Importunity telling them our necessity, &c., they call'd the old Sophister, who was as sparing of his words as his daughters had bin, and No, or none, was the replys hee made us to our demands. Hee differed only in this from the old fellow in t'other county; hee let us depart. However, I thought it proper to warn poor Travailers to endeavor to Avoid falling into circumstances like ours, wch at our next Stage I sat down and did as followeth:

May all that dread the cruel feind of night
Keep on and not at this curs't Mansion light
'Tis Hell; 'tis Hell! 11

Here dwells the Devill--10
surely this's Hee.
Nothing but Wants: a 11
drop to cool yo'r Tongue can't be procured these cruel Feinds among,
Plenty of horrid Grins
and looks sevear,
Hunger and thirst, But pitty's bannished here-
The Right hand keep, if Hell on Earth you fear!

Jonathan Davol removed from Newport, Rhode Island to Dartmouth, Massachusetts, and became the ancestor not only of the Bristol County, Massachusetts family of Davol, but also of the Dutchess County, New York branch, which spelled the name " "Deuel"or "Deuell."

Many descendants through his sons Jonathan, Joseph and Jeremiah were to be found in Dutchess County, New York, before, during and after the Revolution

The History of Little Nine Partners, 1897, contains evidence of the family in Pine Plains.

Oct. 31, 1677, he and forty-seven others were granted five thousand acres to be called East Greenwich, Rhode Island, in which place he never settled.

At Dartmouth, Aug. 19, 1698, he sold to Nathaniel Potter, Sr. of Dartmouth, fifty acres located in Dartmouth for £14.

Dartmouth, Bristol County, Massachusetts, the birthplace of so many of this old Rhode Island family, was the town where so many of the descendants of the early Rhode Island families settled, drawn there probably because of its proximity to Rhode Island, their cradle and because of its agricultural possibilities, as most of its early inhabitants were farmers, with a complement of blacksmiths, millers and the like.

Many of the early Davol residents followed the blacksmith profession, with the land records in Taunton, the county seat of Bristol County, referring to them as such.

Taunton early became a silver manufacturing city, and today (1953) many of the famous old silversmiths of Taunton have their names perpetuated in firms still turning out solid silver ware in Taunton, Mass.

So the Davol family migrated to Taunton and farther afield.

THE DAVOL FAMILY

The Davol family in the United States numbers many thousands and throughout the history of this country the name has been spelled about 25 different ways. At the present time the spellings most commonly used are Devoll, Devol, Davol, Deuell and Dewel.

Information taken from the Detroit Society of Genealogical Research magazine, Austin's Dictionary, Dartmouth records, and from the book, The Devol Family, by Elbart E. Boyd.

1. WILLIAM[1] DAVOL, first appears in America in Duxbury, Mass. 3 Aug. 1640, when he applied for a parcel of land. He is believed to be the William Davol who was married in Spalding, Lincolnshire, England in 1639, but his wife's name is not known. The origin of the name Davol is supposed to be French, but it has long been in England. The name of his wife has never been found to date. William Davol was living in Newport in 1681. In June 1643, he was of Braintree, Mass. and in 1649 of Rehoboth, Mass. He was made a freeman of Newport 17 March 1653.

Children:

i. John, b. 24 June 1643; d. in July 1643.
ii. Joseph, d. in Feb. 1716; m. (1) Mary Brayton, m. (2) Elizabeth, m. (3) Emily.
iii. Benjamin, m. Elizabeth Pabody. (N.J. records show that he had a wife Judith in 1693).
2. iv. Jonathan, b. in Dartmouth or Newport.

2. JONATHAN[2] DAVOL (William[1]), died about 1709. Residence: Newport and Dartmouth.

He married HANNAH ADLEY, daughter of John Adley, baptized in Boston 27 July 1643, died after 1709. John Adley, the father of Hannah, was a cutler and armourer and one of the more wealthy citizens of Boston. Jonathan married second in 1731 MARTHA (SPOONER) WING, of Rochester, Mass., widow of John Wing.

He was granted 5,000 acres of land in East Greenwich, R.I. with many other settlers, but he never settled there. He moved to Dartmouth, where he sold 19 Aug. 1698 to Nathaniel Potter Sr. of Dartmouth, 50 acres for 15 pounds.

Children by first wife:

All,

Have gone through my references and this is what I have on the first 3 generations of Audley (Odlin) in my files. Would be glad to get any corrections and additions with references. Am most interested of course in Elizabeth Audley who married Nicolas Mosher as that is my own line.

Thanks, Bob

All,

Have dug a little more...which did NOT clarify anything...checked some CD's and found the material below. The issue is a couple Hannah's and possibly an Ann Audley, where they fit and who they married. I sent what I had in an earlier message. One thing to check if anyone has good Davol sources is the ages on the Davol side for the Hannah who married Jonathan Davol. I show her as born 1643...does that make sense with Jonathan's age?

Does anyone have anything on the Burnstead line as another theory is that the Hannah that I show married to Jonathon Davol HAD to have married a Burnstead to provide a Burnstead Granddaughter to the emigrant John Audley.

I show a daughter Ann who married Jeremiah Clarke, while the following raises the possibility that it was Hannah!

I also found a Benjamin Audley who married Mary Merril in 1683 in Scituate, MA...anyone know how he fits in?

Bob

Q: Why are additional extensions added to the Program Files Only list?

A: As the Network Associates Anti-Virus Emergency Response Team finds viruses that can infect new file types, it adds new extensions to the default extensions list to enhance security. For instance, new viruses can infect Microsoft Office binder files, so the default extensions list now includes the file extension for these binder files so that VirusScan will examine them for viruses.

A McLaughlin correspondent, snm@horizon.hit.net Sam McLaughlin, tells me that he is a descendant of Elizabeth McLaughlin b ca 1808, Rural Retreat, Wythe Co., VA. And that his records show that she married a Philip Flanagan. I already knew that Elizabeth's father was Eli, but I hadn't known that he had been murdered 7 Nov 1816 by John Elliott, this is from the Russell Co.,VA Court records for 16 Nov 1816, p 350. My correspondent also informed me that Mary Wampler McLaughlin, Eli's widow, married a Jacob King (Koenig) in 1822. Some of the children stayed with her, he says, and others with her brother.
I have just been informed by Charles Flanagan, of Crockett, VA, another correspondent has obtained the original records of this murder and is sending them to me today.
Correspondence with Flanagan cousins tell me that after the death of Elizabeth McLaughlin(McGlothin), Philip, while in Hawkins Co., TN m an Ellen Dunn on the 19 Feb 1867.

Oct 2000 Diane Keeton has added a few more tidbits from Hawkins Co., TN on Philip. She, too, found the 2nd m of Philip to Ellen Dunn (some have read it Davis. I will take Diane's reading). She went further in checking on Ellen Dunn. She found her parents in 1860 census of Hawkins, Ephriam and Bettie. In 1870 is Ephriam and Elizabeth with Ellen Felanegan, age 32 and Margaret Felanegan, age 3 yrs.
I accidentally found the marriage of Philip Flanagan and Parthena Hunter 12 Jan 1879 in Anderson Co., TN. Parthena had two children, obviously from another marriage for they carry the surname in the census of HUNTER. I also found in Knox Co., the 3rd m for Parthena to a Peter P. Simpson, so we can guess that our Philip d ca 1890.

Subj: Hawkins Co. TN marriage records
Date: 12/10/2000 6:37:17 PM Central Standard Time
From: dkeeton@one.net (Diane Keeton)
To: VHillJ@aol.com (Vivian Hill Jordan), jerrysollinger@email.msn.com (Jerry Sollinger), SReyno1017@aol.com (Kelmer & Shirley Reynolds), graciethecat@hotmail.com (Melissa Moore), pme1934@yahoo.com (Phyllis Elenich)

Although some of you will not be interested in all (or maybe any) of this message, I thought I'd share what I have found with all of my Flanagan cousins, and let you each decide whether it is of any value to you.

I have ordered Hawkins Co. TN marriage records from the local LDS family history center. These findings are all from their microfilm #0972789, copies of the original marriage records at the courthouse in Rogersville TN. I will actually only "bore" you with 2 of the most recent records, because the older ones didn't reveal any new information. These were indexed in the Marriage Record Book 1847-1867, but they are dated in 1881 and 1882.

Page 19, line 1888. Dec 22, 1881. At Hawkins County, William T. Burchfield to Mary Flanagin, both residing in Hawkins County. William Burchfield is age 21, born in Hawkins Co., occupation farmer. Mary is age 49, born in "Smith County, Va." Officiated by J. E. Denny, J. C. Witnessed by John Henley and William Henley of New Canton, Tenn.

This appears to be Mary, daughter of Philip and Elizabeth (McLaughlin) Flanagan, who was born in ca 1831. In 1880 she was living next to her son Rufus and his wife Susan (Graham), in the household of a single man named Alfred R. McGhee. In "Wills of Hawkins County, Tennessee", by Carolyn S. Gardner and Sheila W. Johnston, I found the will of Alfred R. McGee, dated 16 Mar 1883, proved 2 Oct 1883, in which he mentions his "niece, Susan V. Flanegan, wife of Rufus Flanigan."

If William Burchfield was really only 21 at the time he married Mary Flanagan, he might be the William (it looks like an "F" to me) Birchfield, age 11/12, on the 1860 Hawkins Co. TN census, page 70, family 854. Head of household was Mourning Birchfield, age 43, female. Other people in the household were Nancy E., 25; Louisiana, 7; and another William F., age 21.

On Page 14, line 140, of the marriage book is another interesting marriage record. March 8, 1882, in Rogersville, Tenn., Francis Stark to Ellen Flanegan, both residing in Hawkins County, Tenn. Francis is 54, born in Washington Co. Va, occupation wagonmaker. Ellen is 49, birthplace Washington Co. Va. Officiating was A. D. Huffmaster, Justice of the Peace. Witnesses were A. D. Huffmaster and Elizabeth Dunn of Hawkins County. Recorded March 3, 1882 [sic].

This surely must be Ellen Dunn who married Philip Flanagan on Feb. 19, 1867. (Hawkins Co. Marriage Book June 1866-April 1867, page 111, line 407) Here are the census records I have found for Ellen: 1850 Washington Co. VA, page 137, family 1005: Ephraim Dunn, 49, wagoner; Elizabeth, 46; James, 28; Elen, 9, all born in VA.
1860 Hawkins Co. TN, New Canton, page 49, family 1125: Ephraim Dunn, 50, farmer; Bettie, 46; Ellen, 20, all born TN.
1870 Hawkins Co. TN, New Canton, page 72, family 13: Ephraim Dunn, 70, farmer; Elizabeth, 66; Ellen Felanegan, 32 (all born VA); Margaret Felanegan, 3, birthplace TN.

I couldn't find her on the 1880 census, but maybe I just overlooked her.

I have a theory about Emeline Flanagan also. I believe that she is Mary's daughter and sister of Rufus. On the 1860 census she is 4. On the 1870 census she is probably the 17-year-old Emeline Coley living with Philip, Mary and Martha (Is this a clue as to who her father was?). On 10 Jan 1871, William T. Bradshaw and Sarah E. Flanagan were married in Hawkins co. (Marriage Book 1867-1873, page 99) On the 1880 census, ED 80, page 14, family 21, William H. Bradshaw and his wife Sarah E. are living close to Rufus Flannegan (who is next door to Alfred McGee and Rufus's mother Mary Flanagan). Sarah E. is aged 25, birthplace VA and both parents' birthplaces given as VA. William and Sarah's oldest son is Rufus, oldest daughter is Mary. I think Sarah E. is Emeline Flanagan/Coley. But it's just a theory.

I welcome any comments or corrections. You may have more information about these people that differs from my humble conclusions.

Have a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Diane

I will actually only "have" you each 2 of the most recent records, because the older ones don't reveal any new information. Witnessed by John Hinkley and William Hinkley of New Carlton, Tenn.

This appears to be Mary, daughter of Philip and Elizabeth (McLaughlin) Flanagan, who was born in ca 1831; in 1860 she was living next to her son Philip and his wife Susan (Dishon). In the household of a single man named Alfred R. McClure. In "Wife of Hendley County, Tennessee", by Carolyn B. Gardner and Sheila W. Johnston, I found the will of Alfred R. This society must be Ellen Dunn who married Philip Flanagan on Feb. 19, 1827. (Hawkins Co. I have a theory about Elizabeth Flanagan also. I believe that she is Mary's daughter and sister of Rufus. On the 1860 census she is 4. On the 1870 census she is probably the 17-year-old Elmaine Daley living with Philip, Mary and Martha (is this a clue as to who her father was?). On 10 Jan 1871, William T. Bunchfield and Sarah E. Flanagan were married in Hawkins co. (Marriage Book 1857-1873, page 69) On the 1880 census, ED 60, page 14, family 21, William H. Sarah E. is aged 29, birthplace VA and both parents' birthplaces given as VA. William and Sarah's oldest son is Rufus, eldest daughter is Mary. I think Sarah E. is Emmaline Flanagan/Daley. with the O'Donnells (princes of Tirconnell), who had extended their power over a great part of Sligo. Sligo derives its name from the river Sligeach ("Slig," a shell), and was formed into a county, A.D. 1565, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, by the lord deputy Sir Henry Sydney.

(c) Modern Nobility in Mayo and Sligo.

The following have been the noble families in Mayo and Sligo since the reign of King James the First.

Mayo; Bourke, viscounts Clanmorris and earls of Mayo. Browne, barons of Kilmain, barons of Westport, and barons of Oranmore. Bingham, barons of Castlebar; and Saville, barons of Castlebar. Dillon, barons of Costello-Gallen, and viscounts Dillon. O'Hara, barons of Tyrawley and Kilmain.

Sligo: Taaffe, barons of Ballymote, and viscounts of Corran. Coote, barons of Collooney. Scudamore, viscounts of Sligo. And Browne, marquises of Sligo.

2.—ROSCOMMON AND GALWAY.

(a) The Irish Chiefs and Clans.

The following chiefs and clans in Roscommon and Galway, and the territories possessed by them in the twelfth century, have been collected from O'Dugan's Topography and other sources:—1. MacDiarmada or MacDermott, princes of Moylurg, Tir-Oilill, Tir-Tuathail, Arteach, and Clan Cuain. Moylurg comprised the plains of Boyle, in the county Roscommon; Tir-Oilill, now the barony of "Tirerill" in Sligo; Arteach, a district in Roscommon near Lough Gara, on the borders of Sligo and Mayo; Clan Cuain was a district in the barony of Carra, near Castlebar, comprising the present parishes of Islandeady, Turlough, and Breaffy. The MacDermotts were hereditary marshals of Connaught, the duties attached to which were to raise and regulate the military forces, and to prepare them for battle, as commanders-in-chief; also to preside at the inauguration of the O'Connors as kings of Connaught, and to proclaim their election. The MacDermotts derive their descent from Teige of the White Steed, king of Connaught in the eleventh century; and are a branch of the O'Connors. This Teige had a son named Maolruanaidh, the progenitor of the MacDermotts: hence their tribe name was Clan Maolruanaidh or Clan Mulrooney. Diarmaid (dia; Irish, a god, and armaid, of arms, and signifying a great warrior), grandson of Mulrooney, who died, A.D. 1165, was the head of the clan; and from him they took the name of "MacDermott." The MacDermotts had their chief fortress at the Rock of Lough Key, on an island in Lough Key, near Boyle; and are the only Milesian family who have preserved their title of Prince, namely, "Hereditary Prince of Coolavin:" a title by which the MacDermott is to this day recognised in the county Sligo. The principal families of the MacDermotts in Connaught are—The MacDermott of Coolavin, and MacDermott Roe of Alderford in the county Roscommon. The following were, according to O'Dugan, the ancient chiefs of Moylurg before the time of the MacDermotts:—

> "The ancient chiefs of Moylurg of abundance:
> MacEoach (or MacKeogh); MacMaoin (or MacMaine), the great.
> And MacRiabhaidh (or Magreevy) the efficient forces."

2. O'Ceallaigh or O'Kelly. This name is derived from Ceallach, a celebrated chief of the ninth century, who is the ancestor of the O'Kellys, princes of Hy-Maine. These O'Kellys are a branch of the Clan Colla of Orgiall in Ulster, and of the same descent as the MacMahons, lords of Monaghan; Maguires, lords of Fermanagh; O'Hanlons, lords of Orior in Armagh, etc. In the fourth century, Main Mór or Main the Great, a chief of the Clan Colla, conquered a colony of the Firbolgs in Connaught; and the territory so conquered, which was possessed by his posterity, was after him called Hy-Maine (signifying the territory possessed by the descendants of Main), which has been Latinized "Hy-Mania" and "I-Mania." This extensive territory comprised,

Irish Ballymore v. I. 69

Chiefs + clans + territory the possessed 12th century

according to O'Flaherty and others, a great part of South Connaught in the present county Galway, and was afterwards extended beyond the river Suck to the Shannon, in the south of Roscommon. It included the baronies of Ballymoe, Tiaquin, Killian, and Kilcollan, with part of Clonmacnoon, in Galway; and the barony of Athlone in Roscommon. The O'Kellys were styled princes of Hy-Maine, and their territory was called "O'Kelly's Country."

According to the "Dissertations" of Charles O'Connor, the O'Kellys held the office of high treasurers of Connaught, and the MacDermotts that of marshals. Tadhg or Teige O'Kelly, one of the commanders of the Connaught contingent of Brian Boru's army at the battle of Clontarf, was of this ancient family. The O'Kellys had castles at Aughrim, Garbally, Gallagh, Monivea, Moylough, Mullaghmore, and Aghrane (now Castlekelly), in the county Galway; and at Athlone, Athleague, Corbeg, Galy, and Skrine, in the county Roscommon. The chiefs of the O'Kellys, according to some accounts, were inaugurated at Clontuskert, about five miles from Eyrecourt in the county Galway, and held their rank as princes of Hy-Maine down to the reign of Queen Elizabeth. 3. MacOireachtaigh or MacGeraghty, of the same stock as the O'Connors of Connaught. In the Annals of the Four Masters, at A.D. 1278, MacOiraghty is mentioned as head chief of Siol Murray, a term applied to the central parts of the county Roscommon; and, in the sixteenth century, when deprived of their territories, some of the clan Geraghty settled in Mayo and Sligo, and gave their name to the island of Innis Murray, off the coast of Sligo, on account of their former title as head chiefs of Siol Murray, as in the Annals above mentioned. 4. O'Fionnachta or O'Finaghty, chiefs of Clan Conmaigh, and of Clan Murchada, districts in the two half baronies of Ballymoe in the counties of Galway and Roscommon, in O'Kelly's principality of Hy-Maine. The O'Finaghtys here mentioned were of the Clan Colla; and two distinct chiefs of them are given by O'Dugan: one of them, Finaghty of "Clan Murrogh of the Champions;" and the other, Finaghty of the "Clan Conway." O'Finaghty (modernized "Finnerty"), chiefs of Clan Conway, had their castle at Dunamon, near the river Suck, in the county Roscommon. It is stated in some old authorities, that the O'Finaghtys had the privilege of drinking the first cup at every royal feast. 5. O'Fallamhain or O'Fallon were chiefs of Clan Uadach, a district in the barony of Athlone, in the county Roscommon, comprising the parishes of Cam and Dysart, and had a castle at Miltown. The O'Fallons were originally chiefs in Westmeath, near Athlone. 6. O'Birn or O'Beirne, chiefs of Muintir O'Mannachain, a territory along the Shannon in the parish of Ballintobber, in Roscommon, extending nearly to Elphin. 7. O'Mannachain or O'Monaghan, was also chief on the same territory as O'Beirne. These O'Beirnes are of a distinct race from the O'Byrnes of Wicklow. 8. O'Hainlidhe, O'Hanley, or Henley, chiefs of Cineal Dobhtha, a large district in the barony of Ballintobber, along the Shannon. It formed part of the Three Tuatha or the Three Districts. 9. MacBranain or MacBrennan, sometimes anglicised O'Brennan; and O'Mailmichil, anglicised "Mitchell." The O'Brennans and Mitchells were chiefs of Corca Achlann, a large district adjoining Cineal-Dobtha, in the barony of Roscommon. This district formed part of the "Tuatha" in which was situated the Slieve Baun Mountain. 10. O'Flannagain or Flanagan, chiefs of Clan Cathail, a territory in the barony of Roscommon, north of Elphin. O'Maolmordha, O'Morra, or O'Moore, O'Carthaidh or O'Carthy, and O'Mughroin or O'Moran, were also subordinate chiefs of Clan Cathail (Cathal and Serlus; Irish, Charles; Span. Carlos), or Clan Charles. 11. O'Maolbrennain, anglicised "Mulrenan," chiefs of Clan Conchobhair or Clan Connor, a district near Cruachan or Croaghan, in the barony and county of Roscommon. 12. O'Cathalain, chief of Clan Fogartaigh [Fogarty]; and O'Maonaigh or O'Mooney, chiefs of Clan Murthuile. Clan Fogarty and Clan Murthuile were districts in Ballintubber, county Roscommon. 13. O'Conceannain or O'Concannon, chiefs of Hy-Diarmada, a district on the borders of Roscommon and Galway, in the baronies of Athlone and Ballymoe. 14. MacMurchada, MacMurrough or Murphy, chiefs of Tomaltaigh in Roscommon, of which MacOiraghta was head chief. 15. O'Floinn or O'Flynn, chiefs of Siol Maolruain, a large district in the barony of Ballintubber, county Roscommon; in which lay Slieve Ui Fhloinn or O'Flynn's Mountain, which comprised the parishes of Kilkeeran and Kiltullagh, and part of the parish of Ballynakill, in the barony of Ballymoe, county Galway. O'Maolmuaidh or O'Mulmay, was a subordinate chief over Clan Taidhg or Clan Teige in the same district. 16. O'Rothlain (O'Rowland, O'Roland, and O'Rollin), chiefs of Coill Fothaidh, a district on the borders of Roscommon and Mayo. 17. O'Sgaithgil or Scahil, chiefs of Corca Mogha, a

FLANAGAN

(c) The Modern Nobility of Brefney.

Leitrim: The following were the chief settlers to whom large grants of land were given in the reigns of Elizabeth and James the First:—Hamilton, who erected a castle at Manorhamilton; and the family of Villiers, dukes of Buckingham. Skerrard, in after times barons of Leitrim, and the family of Clements are at present earls of Leitrim.

Cavan: The following have been the noble families in the county Cavan, since the reign of James the First:—Lambert, earls of Cavan: Maxwell, earls of Farnham; Coote, earls of Bellamont; Pope, earls of Belturbet; Verney, barons of Belturbet. Amongst the great landed proprietors, but not resident in the county, were the marquises of Headford, the earls of Annesley, and the earls of Gosford. And among the landed proprietors resident in the county have been—the earls of Farnham, the families of Burrowes, Clements, Coote, Humphreys, Nesbitt, Pratt, Saunderson, Vernon, etc.

Cavan is derived from the Irish "Cabhan" (pronounced "Cawan"), which signifies a hollow place; and corresponds with the situation of the town of Cavan, which is located in a remarkable hollow.

In the reign of Queen Elizabeth, Brefney O'Rourke was, by the lord deputy, Sir Henry Sidney, formed A.D. 1565, into the county Leitrim, and so called from the town of Leitrim; and in the same reign, A.D. 1584, Brefney O'Reilly was, by the lord deputy, Sir John Perrott, formed into a county, and called Cavan, from its chief town. Cavan was added to Ulster, and Leitrim was left in Connaught.

The name "Leitrim," in Irish Liath-Druim, signifies the Grey Hill; and from the town, the county was called Leitrim, as the county Cavan was called from the town of Cavan. Leitrim is Latinized "Leitrimnia;" and Cavan, "Cavania."

IV.—ANCIENT MEATH. THE PRINCIPAL FAMILIES IN THE KINGDOM OF MEATH.

I.—IN THE COUNTY MEATH.

(a) The Irish Chiefs and Clans.

O'Dugan in his Topography says:

"Let us travel around Fodhla (Ireland),
Let men proceed to proclaim these tidings;
From the lands where we now are,
The five provinces we shall investigate.
* * * *

"We give the pre-eminence to Tara,
Before all the melodious mirthful Gael,
To all its chieftains and its tribes,
And to its just and rightful laws.
* * * * *

"The princes of Tara I here record:
The Royal O'Hart, and likewise O'Regan,
The host who purchased the harbours
Were the O'Kellys and O'Connollys."

The "harbours" here mentioned were those of the river Shannon, bordering on the ancient Kingdom of Meath.

The Kingdom of Meath included Bregia and Teffia. The chiefs and clans of the Kingdom of Meath, and the territories they possessed, are as follows: 1. O'Melaghlin, kings of Meath. Of this family Murcha was the king of Meath at the time of the Anglo-Norman invasion; whose Kingdom was granted by King Henry the Second to Hugh de Lacey. 2. O'h-Airt or O'Hart were princes of Tara; and when, on the Anglo-Norman invasion of Ireland, they were dispossessed of their territories in Bregia or the eastern portion of Dalcassians), lord of Delbhna Mór, now the barony of "Delvin," in Westmeath. 19. O'Maollugach, chief of Brogha, part of the now baronies of Delvin and Farbill. 20. MacCochlain or MacCoghlan (of the Dalcassians), lord of Dealbhna-Eathra, now the barony of Garrycastle in the King's County. 21. O'Tolairg or O'Toler and O'Tyler, chief of Cuircne (cuircne: Irish, the progeny of Cuirc, anglicised "Quirk"), now the barony of Kilkenny West, in Westmeath. 22. MacEoghagain or MacGeoghagan, Prince of Cineal Fiacha, now the barony of Moycashel, with parts of Rathconrath and Fertullagh. The MacGeoghagans were one of the principal branches of the Clan Colman, and were called Cineal Fiacha, from one of the sons of Niall of the Nine Hostages. 23. MacRuairc or MacRourke, chief of Aicme-Enda, descended from Enna Finn, another son of Niall of the Nine Hostages. This clan was located in the district in which is situated the Hill of Uisneach, in the barony of Rathconrath, in Westmeath. 24. O'Cairbre or O'Carbery, chief of Tuath Binn. 25. O'Heochadha (O'Heoghey, O'Hoey, O'Howe, etc.), chief of Cineal Aengusa. 26. O'Maelcolain or O'Mellon, chief of Delvin Beg or Little Delvin adjoining the barony of Delvin.

O'Dugan, in the continuation of his Topography of Meath, enumerates the different chiefs and their territories in Teffia; among whom were the following:

1. O'Catharnaigh or O'Kearney. 2. O'Cuinn or O'Quinn. 3. O'Confiacala or O'Convally. 4. O'Lachtnain or O'Loughnan, anglicised Loftus. 5. O'Mureagain, (Murrin or Murrigan). The O'Quinns were chiefs of Muintir Giolgain, and had their chief castle at Rathcline, in Longford. The other chiefs were:—1. O'Flannagain or O'Flanagan, chief of Comar, which O'Dugan places beside "O'Braoin's Country." 2. O'Braoin or O'Breen of Breaghmhuine, now the barony of "Brawney" in Westmeath. 3. MacConmeadha or Conmy, of Muintir Laodagain. 4. MacAodha or MacHugh, of Muintir Tlamain. 5. MacTaidhg or MacTague, of Muintir Siorthachain. By some of the family the name has been anglicised "Montague." 6. MacAmhailgadh (anglicised respectively, MacAwley, Macaulay, Magauley, and MacGawley), chief of Calraidhe or Calrigia, a territory on the borders of Westmeath and the King's County; comprising (according to MacGeoghegan) the barony of Kilcourcy, in the King's County. 7. MacGarghamna (anglicised MacGorgan), of Muintir Maoilsionna. 8. O'Dalaigh or O'Daley, of Corca Adhaimh or Corcadium, a territory in or contiguous to the barony of Clonlonan, in Westmeath. 9. O'Scolaidhe or O'Scully, of Dealbhna Iarthar or West Delvin. 10. O'Comhraidhe (anglicised O'Corry), of Hy-Mac-Uais or Moygoish in Westmeath. 11. O'Haodha or O'Hea, of Tir Teabtha Shoir or East Teffia. 12. O'Cearbhaill or O'Carroll, of Tara. 13. O'Duin, O'Doyne, or O'Dunne, of the districts of Tara. 14. MacGiolla Seachlan or O'Shaughlin, of Deisceart Breagh, now the parish of "Dysart" in Westmeath. 15. O'Ronain or O'Ronayne, of Cairbre Gaura or northern Teffia. 16. O'h-Aongusa or O'Hennessy, of Galinga Beg,* now the parish of "Gallen" in the King's County.

The following chiefs and clans in Meath and Westmeath have not been given by O'Dugan:—

1. O'Sionnagh (anglicised Fox), of the southern Hy-Niall, lords of Muintir Tadhgain in Teffia, containing parts of the baronies of Rathconrath and Clonlonan in Westmeath, with part of the barony of Kilcourcy in the King's County. The head of this family was distinguished by the title of "The Fox," and obtained large grants of land from Queen Elizabeth, with the title of Lord of Kilcourcy. 2. O'Malone, a branch of the O'Connors, Kings of Connaught, who had large possessions in the barony of Brawney, in Westmeath. In former times, these chiefs had the title of "Barons of Clan-Malone," and afterwards obtained that of "Barons Sunderlin," of Lake Sunderlin, in Westmeath. 3. O'Fagan, a numerous clan in Meath and Westmeath, of which there were many respectable families, the head of which had the title of "Baron of Feltrim," in Fingal. The following were also clans of note in Westmeath, namely, 4. O'Cobthaidh or O'Coffey. 5. O'Higgin. And in Meath, O'Loingseach or O'Lynch. 6. O'Murphy. 7. O'Murray. 8. O'Brogan, etc. The chiefs and clans of ancient Meath were, with few exceptions, of the same race as the southern Hy-Niall; in our days, there are but few families of note, descendants of the ancient chiefs and princes of Meath.

* Galinga Beg: According to O'Donovan, "Galinga Beg" included Glasnevin, near Dublin, north of the river Liffey; but this Galinga Beg could not be the same as the Galinga Beg, in the King's County.

3.—ARMAGH.

(a) THAT part of Orgiall, afterwards forming the county Armagh, was possessed partly by the families of O'Hanlon and MacCann, and partly by those of O'Neill, O'Larkin, O'Duvany or O'Devany; and O'Garvy, of the Clan-na-Rory, who, according to O'Brien, possessed the Craobh Ruadh [Creeveroe] or the territory of the famous Red Branch Knights of Ulster; O'Hanratty or Enright, of Hy-Meith-Macha;* and O'Donegan, of Breasal Macha.† Ancient Orgiall included the territory embraced in the present counties of Tyrone and Derry; but of that territory the Clan Colla were gradually dispossessed by the race of Owen (son of Niall of the Nine Hostages), from whom it derived the name Tir-Owen.

The native chiefs held their independence down to the reign of Elizabeth, when Armagh was formed into a county, A.D. 1586, by the Lord Deputy, Sir John Perrott.

(b) THE NEW SETTLERS IN ARMAGH.

In the Armagh portion of ancient Orgiall, the following were the chief English families:—Acheson, Brownlow, Powell, St. John, Hamilton, Cope, Rowlston (or Rolestone), etc.

(c) THE MODERN NOBILITY IN ARMAGH.

The modern noble families in Armagh have been—Acheson, earls of Gosford; Caulfield, earls of Charlemont; and Brownlow, barons of Lurgan. The Hamiltons in former times had the title of earls of Clanbrassil.

4.—FERMANAGH.‡

(a) THE IRISH CHIEFS AND CLANS.

THE following were the Chiefs and Clans of Fermanagh, and the territories they possessed in the twelfth century:—1. MacUidhir (anglicised MacGuire and Maguire)

* Hy-Meith-Macha: The descendants of Muireadach Meith, son of Iomchadh [Imcha], who was a son of Colla-da-Chrioch, were called Hy-Meith or Ui-Meith. There were two territories of this name in the Kingdom of Orgiall: one called sometimes Ui Meith-Tire (from its inland situation), and sometimes Ui-Meith-Macha, from its contiguity to Armagh; and the other Ui-Meith Mara, from its contiguity to the sea. The latter was more anciently called "Cuailghne;" and its name and position are preserved in the anglicised name of "O'Meath," a district in the county Louth, comprising ten townlands, situate between Carlingford and Newry. The "Hy-Meith Macha" or "Hy Meith Tire" is a territory in the present county Monaghan, comprising the parishes of Tullycorbet, Kilmore, and Tehallan, in the barony of Monaghan. Of this territory the O'Hanrattys were the ancient chiefs, before they were dispossessed by the sept of the Mac Mathghamhna (or MacMahons); and Saint Maeldoid, the patron saint of Muckno, at Castleblayney, was of the same stock as the O'Hanrattys. That Saint Maeldoid, according to Colgan, was a lineal descendant of Colla-da-Crioch: "S. Malddeius de Mucknam, filius Fingini, filii Aidi, filii Fiachri, filii Fiachæ, filii Eugenii, filii Briani, filii Muredachi, filii Colla-fochrioch (or Colla-da-Chrioch)." The Muintir Birn (some of whose descendants have anglicised their name Bruen), a district in the south of the barony of Dungannon, adjoining the territory of Trough in the county Monaghan, and Toaghie, now the barony of Armagh, were descended from the same progenitor as the Ui-Meith, namely, Muredach Meith, as above.

† Breasal Macha: This was the territory of the Ui-Breasal, or, as they were called, the Ui Breasal Macha; descended from Breasal, son of Felim, son of Fiachra Casan, son of Colla-da-Chrioch. In later ages this territory was more usually called Clann Breasal, anglicised "Clanbrazil" or "Clanbrassill." The tribe of O'Garvey were the ancient chiefs of this territory; but in more modern times it belonged to the MacCanns, who were descended from Rochadh, the son of Colla-da-Chrioch. This territory was on the south of Lough Neagh, where the Upper Bann enters that lake, and was co-extensive with the present barony of O'Neilland East, in the county of Armagh; and, according to a map of Ulster made in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, or James the First, it would appear that, in the formation of the baronies, more than one territory was placed in that of O'Neilland. The fact is, that all the eastern part of the Kingdom of Orgiall, called "Oirthear," was occupied by septs of the race of Niallan: that district including the present baronies of East and West O'Neilland and also those of East and West Orior; for, the sept of O'h-Anluain (or the O'Hanlons), who possessed the two latter baronies, were descended from the aforesaid Niallan, another descendant of Colla-da-Chrioch.—Book of Rights.

‡ Fermanagh: In the early ages, according to our old annalists, the lake called Lough Erne suddenly burst forth and overflowed a great tract of land which was called Magh Geannain or the "Plain was chief of Feara Monach (or "Fermanagh"). 2. O'Muldoon, chief of Muintir Maolduin and Feara Luirg, now known as the barony of "Lurg." 3. Muintir Taithligh, Tilly or Tully, chiefs of Hy-Laoghaire, of Lough Lir, a district which lay in the barony of Lurg, near Lough Erne, towards Tyrone. 4. MacDuilgen or MacDwilgan, not mentioned in O'Dugan, is A.D. 924, in the Annals of the Four Masters, given as Fergus MacDuilgen, lord of Lurg. 5. O'Flanagan, chief of Tuath Ratha (a name retained by the mountain "Tura") or the District of the Fortress, a territory which extended from Belmore to Belleek, and from Lough Melvin to Lough Erne, comprising the present barony of Magheraboy. 6. Gilfinan, chief of Muintir Peodachain of the Port, on the borders of Fermanagh and Donegal; and still traceable in the name of "Pettigo." (By metathesis we might derive "Pakenham" from this Irish clan: Peodachain, Pachain, Pachena, Pakenha—Pakenham). 7. Mac Giolla Michil or Gilmichael (anglicised "Michil" and "Michael") was chief of Clan Congail. In the Annals of the Four Masters, at A.D. 1238, it is stated that Clan Congail and O'Ceanfada [O'Kennedy] lay in Tir Managh or Fermanagh: this Clan or Tir O'Ceanfhada is probably the present barony of "Tirkennedy." 8. O'Mulrooney and O'Heany, who were chiefs of Muintir Maolruanaidh (as the descendants of Maolruanaidh, No. 104, page 672, were called), and of Maoith Leirg Monach. 9. MacDonnell, chief of Clan Celleagh, now the barony of "Clankelly."

The following clans, not given in O'Dugan, are collected in Connellan's Four Masters from other sources:—10. MacManus, a numerous clan (chiefly in Tirkennedy), who had the control of the shipping on Lough Erne, and held the office of hereditary chief managers of the fisheries under Maguire. 11. MacCassidy, who were hereditary physicians to the Maguires. Roderick MacCassidy, archdeacon of Clogher, who partly compiled the "Annals of Ulster," was a distinguished member of this important family. 12. O'Criochain (who were descended from Colla-da-Chrioch), anglicised O'Creighan, O'Greighan, Cregan, Crehan, Creighton, Creehan, Grehan, and Graham,* were a numerous clan in Fermanagh. 13. MacGrath, who held possession at Termon M'Grath, where they had a castle in the parish of Templecarne.

"Maguire's Country" was, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, A.D. 1569, formed into the county Fermanagh, by the lord deputy Sir Henry Sidney.

(b) The New Settlers in Fermanagh.

On the "Plantation of Ulster," in the reign of King James the First of England, the following English and Scotch families obtained extensive grants of the confiscated lands in Fermanagh, as given in Pinnar's Survey, A.D. 1619, quoted in Harris's Hibernia:—Sir James Belford, Mr. Adwick, Sir Stephen Butler, ancestor of the earls of Lanesborough; John Sedborrow, Thomas Flowerdew, Edward Hatton, Sir Hugh Wirrall, Sir John Davies, who was Attorney-General to King James the First, and a celebrated writer; Sir Gerrard Lowther, John Archdall, Edward Sibthorp, Henry Flower, Thomas Blennerhasset, Sir Edward Blennerhasset, Francis Blennerhasset; Sir William Cole, ancestor of the earls of Enniskillen; Sir Henry Folliot (now Ffolliot), Captain Paul Gore, Captain Roger Atkinson, Malcolm Hamilton, George Humes, Sir of Geannan," so called from Geannan, one of the Firbolg kings. This lake was anciently called Lough Saimer; and, according to Walsh, in quoting Cambrensis Eversus, derived the name "Erne" from Erna, the favourite waiting-maid of Maud or Meav (the famous queen of Connaught) who was drowned there. In the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth centuries, the head chief of this territory was O'Duibhdara or O'Dwyer, whom O'Dugan mentions as chief of the race of Daimhin (No. 92 on the "O'Hart" pedigree) and several of the names are mentioned in the Annals of the Four Masters, at A.D. 1086, and in Mac Firbis's genealogical work, page 304; amongst others, Giolla Chriosd O Duibhdara, prince of Fermanagh, who A.D. 1076, was killed at Daimhinis or Devenish Island, in Lough Erne.

* Graham or Grahame: The author of that excellent American work, "Irish Family Names," lately published, says:—"The Montrose family, the most eminent of the modern representatives of this grand old Celtic stock, trace their pedigree back to the first half of the fifth century of our era, and to Græme, the distinguished general, who administered the affairs of Scotland in the interest and during the minority of Eugene II., grandson of Fergus II. (A.D. 411-429), of the Dalriadic line of Kings of what we now know as Scotland. Many of the Grahams of Ulster trace their descent from this illustrious stock, originally of the oldest of the 'old Irish' element. The Graham tartan suggestively enough gives prominence, in its make-up, to the 'Emerald green.'"

FLANAGAN

William FitzAdelm, Hugh de Lacy, Humphrey de Bohun, and other lords and barons. The day after Henry's arrival, Dermot MacCarthy, king of Desmond, waited on him at Waterford; delivered to him the keys of the city of Cork; and did him homage. Henry, at the head of his army, marched to Lismore, and thence to Cashel; near which, on the banks of the Suir, Donal O'Brien, King of Thomond, came to meet him, delivered to him the keys of the city of Limerick, and did him homage as Dermot MacCarthy had done. MacGillpatrick, Prince of Ossory; O'Felan, Prince of Desies; and other chiefs, submitted soon after. From Cashel, Henry returned through Tipperary to Waterford, and shortly afterwards proceeded to Dublin; where he remained during the winter, and in a style of great magnificence entertained the Irish kings and princes who had submitted to him. In February, 1172, Henry returned to Waterford, and held a council or parliament at Lismore; and also convened a synod of bishops and clergy at Cashel. After remaining in Ireland about six months, King Henry embarked at Wexford, on Easter Monday, the 17th of April, 1172; set sail for England, and arrived the same day at Port Finnain in Wales. A.D. 1174, Raymond le Gros landed at Waterford, with a large force from Wales, to relieve Strongbow, then besieged by the Irish in that city; and succeeded in rescuing him. A.D. 1175, according to Lanigan, King Henry sent Nicholas, abbot of Malmesbury, and William FitzAdelm to Ireland, with the Bull of Pope Adrian IV., and the brief of Pope Alexander III., conferring on King Henry the Second the kingdom of Ireland; when a meeting of bishops was convened at Waterford, where these documents were publicly read; it being the first time they were ever published. A.D. 1185, Prince John, Earl of Morton, son of King Henry the Second, landed at Waterford, accompanied by Ralph Glunville, Chief Justice of England, and by Giraldus Cambrensis, his secretary and tutor. A.D. 1210, King John landed at Waterford, and soon after proceeded to Dublin, and from thence through various parts of Meath and Ulster.

Waterford is also celebrated as the place of landing and embarkation of other kings of England: namely, of Richard the Second, in the years 1394 and 1399. On the 2nd of September, A.D. 1689, King William the Third embarked at Waterford for England; and, being again in Ireland, at the siege of Limerick, A.D. 1690, he came to Waterford and embarked for England on the 5th of September. On the 2nd of July, 1690, King James the Second, after the battle of the Boyne, arrived at Waterford, whence he set sail for France.

Amongst the ancient notices of Waterford, it may be mentioned that, A.D. 1497, in consequence of the loyalty of the citizens of Waterford, against the mock princes and pretenders to the crown f England—namely, Lambert, Simnel, and Perkins Warbeck, King Henry the Seventh granted, with other honours, to the city the motto—

Intacta Manet Waterfordia:

hence, it is designated the "Urbs Intacta." In 1536, Henry the Eighth sent by Sir William Wyse to the citizens of Waterford a gilt sword, to be always borne before the Mayors, in remembrance of their renowned fidelity.

(a) The Irish Chiefs and Clans of Tipperary and Waterford,

Or Ormond and Desies.

In Desies or Waterford, the following were the chiefs and clans:—1. O'Felan, whose territory was, after the Anglo-Norman invasion, transferred to the Le Poers, and other settlers; but there are still very respectable families of the O'Felans (some of whom have changed the name to Phelan and Whelan) in the counties of Waterford, Tipperary, Kilkenny, and Queen's County. The O'Felans were princes of Desies, and held an extensive territory comprising the greater part of the present county of Waterford, with part of Tipperary, as already explained; and were descended from the Desians of Meath, who were of the race of Heremon. Some of the family in America spell the name "Whelen." 2. O'Bric, of the same descent as O'Felan. 3. O'Brien, a branch of the O'Briens of Thomond. 4. O'Crotty, also a branch of the O'Briens of Thomond. 5. The McGraths were old and respectable families of Waterford; as were also those of O'Shee, O'Ronayne, O'Hely, O'Callaghan, O'Coghlan, O'Meara, etc.

In Ormond or the county Tipperary, the following have been the chiefs and clans of note:—1. O'Donoghoe (or O'Donohoe), of the Eugenian race, and of the same descent as the MacCarthys, kings of Desmond. One of the O'Donoghoes is mentioned by the Four Masters, at the year A.D. 1038, as "king presumptive" of Cashel. The ancient kings of Munster, of the Eugenian race, were inaugurated on the rock of Cashel; and those of the Dalcassian race, or the O'Briens, kings of Thomond, had their place of inauguration at Magh Adair, situated in the townland of Toonagh, parish of Cloney, barony of Upper Tulla, in the county Clare. 2. O'Carroll, Prince of Ely, ruled, according to O'Heerin, over eight subordinate chiefs; and had their castle at Birr, now Parsonstown, in the King's County. O'Carroll was the head of the Clan Cian race, as the MacCarthys were of the Eugenians: and the O'Briens, of the Dalcassians. The territory of "Ely" got its name from Eile, one of its princes, in the fifth century; and from being possessed by the O'Carrolls, was called "Ely O'Carroll;" which comprised the present barony of Lower Ormond, in the county Tipperary, with the barony of Clonlisk and part of Ballybrit, in the King's County; extending to Slieve Bloom Mountains, on the borders of the Queen's County. The part of Ely in the King's County belonged to the ancient province of Munster. 3. O'Kennedy, chief of Gleann Omra; several of them are mentioned by the Four Masters as lords of Ormond. The O'Kennedys (of Munster) were of the Dalcassian race; and possessed the barony of Upper Ormond, in the county Tipperary. 4. O'Hurley: a branch of this family (who were also of the Dalcassian race) settled in Limerick, in the barony of Owneybeg, and in the parish of Knocklong, in the barony of Coshlea, county Limerick, where the ruins of their chief castle still remain. Other branches of the O'Hurleys were settled in Galway, and had large possessions in the baronies of Kilconnell, Killian, and Ballymore; of which family were Sir William and Sir John Hurley, baronets. 5. O'Hern (Hearne, Heron, Ahearne, Ahern), chiefs of Hy-Cearnaidh. 6. O'Shanahan (or O'Shannon), descended from Lorcan, a king of Munster, who was grandfather of Brian Boru: hence, the O'Shanahans or Shannons are a branch of the Dalcassians, who were also designated Clan Tail. The O'Shannons were chiefs of a territory called Feadha Hy-Rongaile or the Woods of Hy-Rongaile—comprising the country about Eibhline; and, as Slieve Eibhline is stated in the old writers to be near Cashel, this territory appears to have been situated either in the barony of Middlethird or of Eliogarty. 7. O'Duffy. 8. O'Dwyer, chief of Hy-Aimrit, was a branch of the Heremonians; and possessed extensive territory in the present baronies of Kilnamanach, county Tipperary. Some of the O'Dwyers were commanders in the Irish Brigade in the Service of France. MacGeoghagan mentions General O'Dwyer as governor of Belgrade; and there was an Admiral O'Dwyer in the Russian service. 9. O'Dea, and O'Hoiliolla (or O'Hulla), are given by O'Heerin as chiefs of Sliabh Ardach, now the barony of "Slieveardagh," in Tipperary. 10. O'Carthy, chief of Muiscridh Iarthar Feimin—a territory which, according to O'Halloran, was situated near Emly, in Tipperary. 11. O'Meara,* chief of Hy-Fathaidh, Hy-Niall, and Hy-Eochaidh-Finn. The O'Mearas had an entensive territory in the barony of Upper Ormond, county Tipperary; and the name of their chief residences Tuaim-ui-Meara, is still retained in the town of "Toomavara," in that district. The Hy-Nialls here mentioned were of the race of Eugenius of Munster. 12. O'Meagher or Maher, chief of Crioch-ui-Cairin, or the land of Hy-Kerrin, now the barony of "Ikerin," in the county Tipperary. 13. O'Flanagan, chiefs of Uachtar Tire and of Cinel Agra. The district of Uachtar Tire (or the Upper Country) was situated in the barony of Iffa and Offa, on the borders of Tipperary and Waterford; and that of Cinel Agra, in Ely O'Carroll, in the King's County. 14. O'Breslin, chief of Hy-Athy of Ely, which appears to have been a part of Ely O'Carroll, situated near the Shannon; and these O'Breslins were probably a branch of the O'Breslins of Donegal, who were Brehons or judges to the O'Donnells, princes of Tirconnell, and to the MacGuires, princes of Fermanagh. 15. O'Keane, chief of Hy-Fodhladha, a district supposed to be on the borders of Tipperary and Waterford. 16. O'Donegan (or O'Dongan) prince of Aradh, was of the race of Heremon. The O'Donegans were styled princes of Muiscrith Tire, now Lower Ormond, in Tipperary; and possessed Aradh Cliach, now the barony of Owney and Arra, also in Tipperary. 17. O'Donnelly or O'Dongally, and O'Fuirig (or O'Furey), also chiefs of Muiscrith Tire. 18. O'Sullivan,

* O'Meara: Of this family we find the following, in p. 36 of the Vol. F. 3. 27, in the MSS. Library of Trinity College, Dublin: 1. Donell O'Meara. 2. William of Lismiskey, co. O'Maoilampaill, written by Duald MacFirbis O'Maoilfabhuill, pronounced "O'Mullawill," and anglicised Lavelle.

Roderic O'Flaherty, historian and antiquary, was born at Moycullen Castle, Galway, in 1629. His father, Hugh, who was last chief of the race, died when Roderic was an infant. He was educated by Dr. Lynch, author of Cambrensis Eversus, and was intimate with Duald MacFirbis, of Lecan. Roderic devoted his life to the study of the history and antiquities of Ireland. He had scarcely arrived at manhood when, in 1652, without having taken any part in politics, he was included in the general Cromwellian proscription. On appeal to the Parliamentary Commissioners sitting at Athlone, he was allowed a portion of his estates in West Connaught, but it was so burdened with taxes and dues, that he was reduced to great destitution. He was disappointed in an alleviation of his circumstances at the Restoration, and wrote: "I live a banished man within the bounds of my native soil; a spectator of others enriched by my birth-right; an object of condoling to my relatives and friends, and a condoler of their miseries." His first important work was a reply to Doctor Borlace's History of the Rebellion. He also wrote A Description of West Connaught, which was first published by the Irish Archæological Society, in 1846. His great work, the Ogygia, "remains a lasting monument of our author's learning and genius." His Ogygia Vindicated, which followed, remained in manuscript until published by Charles O'Connor, in 1775. O'Flaherty was of a commanding presence, and was proud of his blood and ancestry. He died in 1718, aged about 89 years, leaving an only son, Michael, to whom, in 1736, a portion of the family estates was restored.

FLANAGAN NOTES AND THEORIES
By Vivian Jordan, Feb 1999

"PASSENGER Arrivals into Port of Baltimore, MD, 1820-1834"

Found "a" Philip Flannagan 50 yrs, farmer from Grt. Britain (which would make him b ca 1777). Came over 30 Sep 1827

"Proceedings from Orphans Court, Baltimore Co., MD, 1778-1787"

Found in WB 1, 'Philip Flanagan, 8 yrs, 2 Aug next, is bound to Thomas Burgis, a wheelwright on 10 Apr 1782' pp 68,69 (This could possibly be the Philip that is head of household in 1810 Lincoln Co., NC, this needs more research vj)

VJ found in NC Archives in 1984:

A statement or will made by a soldier, John Flinagin(sic), on 19 Aug 1813, Lincoln County, NC., stating that he had enlisted in the Army for 5 yrs and is making his will. He names his mother, Susana, as his heir. Names his father as Philip. He wants his estate, if he dies, to be divided between his bros. and sisters (doesn't name the siblings!!). This will was recorded on July-Sep 1814

Found in Wythe Co., VA deeds where on 23 Feb 1857, Philip Flanagans farm of 168 acs is being sold by the Sheriff because of unpaid debts…….

7/25/2010 Summation by Vivian H. Jordan [illegible], All wrongs to phonos and corrections.

A McLaughlin correspondent, snm@horizon.hit.net Sam McLaughlin, tells me that he is a descendant of Elizabeth McLaughlin b ca 1808, Rural Retreat, Wythe Co., VA. And that his records show that she married a Philip Flanagan. I already knew that Elizabeth's father was Eli, but I hadn't known that he had been murdered 7 Nov 1816 by John Elliott, this is from the Russell Co.,VA Court records for 16 Nov 1816, p 350. My correspondent also informed me that Mary Wampler McLaughlin, Eli's widow, married a Jacob King (Koenig) in 1822. Some of the children stayed with her, he says, and others with her brother.
Charles Flanagan, of Crockett, VA, another correspondent has obtained the original records of this murder and the will records are invaluable as they list the children of Eli and Mary W. McLaughlin.

Correspondence with Flanagan cousins tell me that after the death of Elizabeth McLaughlin(McGlothin), Philip, while in Hawkins Co., TN m an Ellen Dunn on the 19 Feb 1867.

Oct 2000 Diane Keeton has added a few more tidbits from Hawkins Co., TN on Philip. She, too, found the 2nd m of Philip to Ellen Dunn (some have read it Davis. I will take Diane's reading). She went further in checking on Ellen Dunn. She found her parents in 1860 census of Hawkins, Ephriam and Bettie. In 1870 is Ephriam and Elizabeth with Ellen Felanegan, age 32 and Margaret Felanegan, age 3 yrs.
I accidentally found the marriage of Philip Flanagan and Parthena Hunter 12 Jan 1879 in Anderson Co., TN. Parthena had two children, obviously from another marriage for they carry the surname in the census of HUNTER. I also found in

Last Proven Ancestor……Philip Flanagan b 1805 NC (census reports) d ca 1890 probably TN [according to marriage record in 12 Jan 1870 to 3rd wife, Parthena (Jones) Hunter.dau/ Dempsey] The 1880 census of Anderson Co., TN lists Philip 74 yrs with Parthena 30 and her two children who it appears are the issue of a previous marriage to someone named Hunter. When she marries again to Peter P. Simpson 20 Mar 1892 in Knox Co., TN we are able to guess at a death date for Philip of around 1890. The 2nd wife is listed in the Hawkins Co., TN marriage records as Ellen Dunn whom he m in 19 Feb 1867. We do not know exactly what happened to her.

In our Direct line is Elizabeth, Bettie, McGlothlin who first m Philip Flanagan in March of 1825 (census records). It seems about this time is when the McGlothlins and the McLaughlins changed the spelling of their name. In researching back in time, it is almost always spelled, McGlothlin. If you come forward in time, it turns into McLaughlin. The confusion of some researchers in reading the Centennial History Editions put out by most of the Counties in the Nation is that the researchers do not read the explanations at the first of the book. In the Philip Flanagan story that someone inserted in this Centennial Edition of Wythe County, VA the name ALDERMAN printed after the information is the compilers name that sent in the information and many times it is the author's name of the book that the information was taken from. Remember, these 'Mug' books as genealogists call them are just published by the publishers. They ask people to send in their family information IF the researchers are willing to pay the publishers , a certain fee for so many inches of printed material. Photos cost extra. After publication, they will 'allow you' to buy a book!!

According to Records of Vivian Hill Jordan-28 Jan 2001

Last Proven Ancestor……Philip Flanagan b 1805 NC (census reports) d ca 1890 probably TN [according to marriage record in 12 Jan 1870 to 3rd wife, Parthena (Jones) Hunter.dau/ Dempsey] The 1880 census of Anderson Co., TN lists Philip 74 yrs with Parthena 30 and her two children who it appears are the issue of a previous marriage to someone named Hunter. When she marries again to Peter P. Simpson 20 Mar 1892 in Knox Co., TN we are able to guess at a death date for Philip of around 1890. The 2nd wife is listed in the Hawkins Co., TN marriage records as Ellen Dunn whom he m in 19 Feb 1867. We do not know exactly what happened to her.

In our Direct line is Elizabeth, Bettie, McGlothlin who first m Philip Flanagan in March of 1825 (census records). It seems about this time is when the McGlothlins and the McLaughlins changed the spelling of their name. In researching back in time, it is almost always spelled, McGlothlin. If you come forward in time, it turns into McLaughlin. The confusion of some researchers in reading the Centennial History Editions put out by most of the Counties in the Nation is that the researchers do not read the explanations at the first of the book. In the Philip Flanagan story that someone inserted in this Centennial Edition of Wythe County, VA the name ALDERMAN printed after the information is the compilers name that sent in the information and many times it is the author's name of the book that the information was taken from. Remember, these 'Mug' books as genealogists call them are compiled by the publishers. They ask people to send in their family information IF they are willing to pay them, the publishers, a certain fee for so many inches of printed material. Photos cost extra. After publication, they will 'allow you' to buy a book!!

Issue of PHILIP AND ELIZABETH (MCGLOTHLIN) FLANAGAN ;

1. William Washington Flanagan b 10 may 1827 in Wythe Co., VA d 14 Sep 1914 in Crockett, Wythe Co., VA. Married Amanda Jane Coley 3 Apr 1851 Crockett, Wythe Co., VA, dau/ Francis Coley and Sarah Vaught. (in 1900 census, Amanda states that she has had 9 children and that 6 are living.) (Info from desc. Vivian Hill Jordan)

2. Austin Clayton Flanagan b 1828 Wythe Co., VA m 1st Elizabeth J. Kessler 4 June 1852 in Wythe Co., VA; m 2nd Mary Caroline Kinser 13 Oct 1856 in Ashe Co., NC; m 3rd Mary E. Nye Scott 1 Nov 1880 in Wythe Co., VA. (info from desc. Charles Flanagan)

3. Mary Flanagan b 1831 in Wythe Co., VA d 12 Jan 1903 in Hawkins Co., TN. She m William Burchfield. Some researchers have info that says that she had one and maybe more children before she m and that these are some of the 'extra' children found with Philip and Elizabeth in 1860 Census of Hawkins Co., TN .(Info from great grandson of Rufus, son of Mary , Billy K. Housewright)

4. Jane Flanagan b 1833 in VA d 4 May 1916 and is bu in Old Union Cemetery of Hawkins Co., TN

Last Known Ancestor ..... Philip Flanagan b 1805 NC (census reports) d ca 1890 probably TN (according to marriage record in 12 Jan 1870 to 3rd wife, Partheria (Jones) Hunter, dau/ Dorothy) The 1880 census of Anderson Co., TN lists Philip M yrs with Partheria 30 and her two children who it appears are the issue of a previous marriage to someone named Hunter. When she marries again to Peter P. Simpson 20 Mar 1892 in Knox Co., TN we are able to guess at a death date for Philip of around 1890. The 2nd wife is listed in the Hawkins Co., TN marriage records as Ellen Dixon when he is in 19 Feb 1867. We do not know exactly what happened to her.

In our Direct line is Elizabeth, Bessie, McClothlin who first in Philip Flanagan in March of 1827 (census records). It seems about this time is when the McClothlins and the McLaughlins changed the spelling of their name. In researching back in time, it is almost always spelled McClothlin. If you come forward in time, it turns into McLaughlin. The conclusion of some researchers in reading the Centennial History Editions put out by most of the Counties in the Nation is that the researchers do not read the explanations at the ends of the book. In the Philip Flanagan story that someone inserted in this Centennial Edition of Wythe County, VA the name ALDERMAN printed after the information is the compilers name that was in the information and many times it is the author's name of the book that the information was taken from. 3. George Mace Flanagan b 18 July 1881 d 24 Nov 1965 Guthrie, Logan, OK. m 1st Jessie Hudson and 2nd ???.

(It appears that my cousin, Beulah Black of Norman, OK (dau/ George Mace) is the author of most of this info. Her sister, Nora Natalie was an avid researcher for awhile and gave me some wonderful little tidbits gleaned from reading the newspapers of Capitol Hill, OK, on the life and times of my Mother, Nora Blanche Flanagan, during her life in Norman, OK before her marriage to Wm. K. Hill. We exchanged info for a number of years then she quit suddenly. I'm pleased that Beulah took up the reins and carried on putting the records down.
I hope that I have corrected some of it. Please correct MY notes for I'm sure that there are some. Before all this goes out over the Internet for people to take it for FACT and PROVEN, let us please make it as accurate as we can.)

Vivian,

It is a pleasure to share the info that I have. Where are you from?

Here is what I have. I do not know if we will find a connection because my information is kind of weak in this line but maybe together we can uncover some information.

5ggrandfather - Moses Flanagan m. Anne Norriss (relationship to my line is unconfirmed) 4ggrandfather - Joshua Flanagan m. Amy Mason (relationship to my line is unconfirmed) 3ggrandfather - Benjamin F. Flanagan (1818-1860) m. Margaret Whitehurst (1825-aft 1900) 2ggrandmother - Caroline V. Flanagan (1859-1892) m. John Paden McCoy (1855-?)
ggrandmother - Mary Lewis McCoy (1880-1955) m. Frank Theodore Seawell (1869-1921) grandmother - Mary Elizabeth Seawell (1899-1960) m. Joseph Benjamin Yon (1895-1972) mother - Thelma Earle Yon (1941-) m. Lonnie Richard Hogge (1934-) me - Lonnie Richard "Rick" Hogge, Jr. (1960-) m. Kimberly Sue Dodson (1963-)

Moses Flanagan and Anne Norris were married in Princess Anne Co. on 2 Nov 1786. So that puts Moses in Virginia at that time (obviously).

Benjamin Franklin was an inn/tavern keeper. The Tavern apparently was near the Princess Anne Courthouse because there is a list of people from a census that lived in the inn and they included lawyers, a judge, and other officers of the court. Benjamin and his wife apparently had a fairly large operation with land because they were large slave holders (his and hers). Margaret Whitehurst was a member of one of the First Families of Princess Anne Co. (now Virginia Beach). The family is still prominent. Benjamin was murdered (according to the 1860 Mortality Schedule) in June 1860. It is a mystery of which I have found no information.

Phillip's father Philip could possibly be a brother of Bejamin or Joshua (?). Princess Anne Co. bordered NC.

Look forward to sharing with you.

Rick Hogge

I found your profile on Ancestry - requesting more information

Vivienne Jordan to me show details 3:19 PM (45 minutes ago) Reply

Hello Mr. Freegan and the Freegan family,

My name is Vivienne Jordan. I found your profile on Ancestry and the family tree you have for years 1 1800s. Your tree shows Frank Freegan born in Kansas, USA. Is this your tree and is Frank your ancestor?

I'm not sure if I have the right Frank Freegan in my family tree, but I'm trying to find more information about my great-grandfather, Frank Freegan, who was born in Kansas, USA. If this is the same Frank Freegan, I'm sure we share a common ancestor.

I'm not looking for anything commercial, just trying to connect with family members who might have photos or stories about Frank. If you're interested, I'd be happy to share what I've found so far and exchange information.

Thanks for your time,
Vivienne Jordan

Dear Vivian,

Because I am giving all credit to you for the Wampler discovery, I thought I would share with you, a copy of a "newsletter" I am mailing to cousins and aunts and other family members, etc., hoping it might generate a little hidden information.

Charles

LICENSED SINCE 1960 • UNDER ALL IS THE LAND

Inside this Newsletter

1. Great-great-great-great-grandfather Murdered!
2. Great-great-grandfather and Virginia Supreme Ct.

Eli McLaughlin

Eli McLaughlin, father of Elizabeth McLaughlin Flanagan, was a miller in Russell County Virginia. He was murdered in 1815. His assailant, John Elliott, was found guilty of second degree murder and sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary. The sentencing judge ordered that one-half of the sentence should be served in a "solitary cell with a low and coarse diet". Details of the murder are currently unavailable. Eli's daughter Elizabeth was the wife of Philip Flanagan. .

Austin Flanagan

The Supreme Court of Virginia relied upon the testimony of Austin C. Flanagan in deciding the case of Scott v. Hillenberg on August 16, 1888. Indeed, in its opinion, the Supreme Court referred specifically to the testimony of A. C. Flanagan. The case involved a question of whether Adam Hillenberg was the father of Margaret Scott. Hillenberg contended that Margaret was conceived while he was with Company B of the 29th Virginia Infantry during the Civil War and that he was not her father. Flanagan testified that Hillenberg was absent from the army during the period in question. Scott prevailed. Not mentioned in the opinion was the fact that Margaret Scott was the wife of the son of Austin's second wife, Mary Scott, whom Austin married on November 1, 1880. Scott v. Hillenberg, 85 Va. 245 (1888)

So You Thought You Were Irish

For many years, we Flannagans thought we were simply Irish. Silly us. America's great "melting pot" impacted our family early on. While struggling to solve the puzzle of ancestry beyond Philip Flanagan in 1830, I had the good fortune to encounter a third cousin on the Internet. Cousin Vivian, of Houston, Texas, is a retired genealogical librarian and she, too, was trying to get beyond Philip. She is related to us through the line of William Washington Flanagan, son of Philip and brother to our Austin. It was Vivian who discovered that Elizabeth, wife of Philip, was the daughter of Eli and Mary Wampler McLaughlin. Mary Wampler's line can be traced from Rural Retreat in Wythe County, to Russell County, to Lancaster, Pa., to the landing of the ship "Lydia" at Philadelphia in 1741, to the Alsace region in Europe, to Diemtigen, Switzerland in the 1500's. So, among your ancestors are the Wampflers, who could be referred to as Pennsylvania Dutch, German or Swiss. Count these Lutherans as part of your religious heritage as well.

And how about French?

The Internet was also the means of contacting another third cousin in Gallatin, Tennessee, who is searching "Mam Maw's" (Ella Flannagan's) Garrison line. Ella's mother was Harriet Garrison Snyder (sometimes Snider). The Garrison line is a story which, as far as I can tell, was almost lost in the Flannagan line. William Garrison, Sr., Ella's great great grandfather, is recorded as the first settler at the foot of Morris Knob in 1772 in what is now Tazewell County, Virginia. He later moved to Madison County, Alabama, and is buried there. William, Sr., was at the Battle of King's Mountain during the Revolutionary War. His great grandson, Henry C. Garrison, Ella's uncle, was with the 22nd Va. Cavalry, Co. G, during the Civil War. [Side note: Henry's senior officer was the son of Austin Flanagan's senior officer in Co. B. of the 29th Va. Infantry]. William, Sr.'s, great grandfather, John Garrisson, was a Maryland colonist who was, it is believed, born in France in 1629. So, add a little French blood to our mix.

memo from butch:

Family information is accumulating so quickly, I can only hope that, some day, I will find the time, energy, and presence of mind to get this in some semblance of order. I share this information with you in an effort to insure that the information is not lost forever and perhaps encourage you to share family information you may have which is unknown to others. I will try to periodically organize and distribute other information languishing in a stack of files.

Surnames mixing with our Flannagan bloodline are:

Snyder (Snider)

Garrison

Bailey

Sharp

Bridwell

MacKnight

Wampler (Wampfler)

McLaughlin

Johnson

Kincer

Seagle

Lund

These lines are ripe for pursuit by a genealogy sleuth lurking out there. Only Garrison and Wampler have been pursued to their pre-America roots.

The Wampler Line:

1. Heinrich Wampfler of Diemtigen, Switzerland, b. 16th Century

2. Hans Wampfler, b. 1616, Zwischenfluh, Switzerland

3. Christian Wampfler, b. 1654

4. Hans Peter Wampfler, Sr., b. 1701, Sparsbach, Alsace (linen weaver)

5. Hans Michael Wampfler, b. 1724, Hinsingen, Alsace (in Wythe Co. Va. in 1770's)

6. George Wampler, father of Mary, b. 1757, (miller)

7. Mary Wampler McLaughlin, b. 1785, mother of Philip Flanagan's wife, Elizabeth:

8. Elizabeth McLaughlin Flanagan, b. ?, md. Philip

The Flannagan Line:

1. Philip Flanagan, b. ?, husband of Elizabeth McLaughlin (farmer)

2. Austin Clayton Flanagan, b. est. 1830 (farmer)

3. James Winton Flannagan, b. 5/11/1862, Wythe Co.

4. William Augusta Flannagan, b. 3/18/1883 (some ?) (railroad), md. Ella

The Garrison Line:

1. John Garrisson, b. 1629, France?

2. John C. Garrison, b. 11/12/1681, Maryland Colony

3. Aaron W. Garrison, b. 1/06/1715, Accomack, Va.

4. William Garrison, Sr., b. 10/23/1746, Overwharton Parish, Stafford Co.,Va.

5. Willliam Garrison, Jr., b. 1767, Stafford Co., Va.

6. Henry Harvey Garrison, b.7/23/1804, Russell Co. Va.

7. Harriet Jane Garrison (Snyder), b. 4/18/1841

8. Elmira Ricketts (Ella) Snyder Flannagan, b. 3/28/1883, md. William Augusta

Excerpt from undated letter from Harriet's sister to her niece

"I have the best news to right I ever did right. JJ and Amanda and Harvey have all professed religion and joined the church. I never Saw Such a change in a family in my life and I feel relieved of a heavy burden. Amanda has bin Baptised, I guess John J and Harvey will be Baptised the first Sunday in next month."

[Note: Amanda and Harvey were Ella Flannagan's maternal grandparents. Harvey's obituary (1876) stated he was one of the "original members of the Methodist Protestant Church" in Abingdon]

Oh, I'm sorry I sent you information that you already had. It seemed strange to me that I hadn't sent that to you, because you are the first person i would think of!

It sure would be great if we could find Philip's parents. I still think we are on the right track with the Flanagans (Flennikins?) of Mecklinburg Co. NC. They lived in Pennsylvania for some time, and the only clue we have to Philip's parents is the 1880 census which says his parents were born in PA.

Well, anyway, it is real good to hear from you and to be back in touch with you. I am still using my first Windows computer from 1996, with Windows 95. Getting a new computer will be with mixed emotions. I dread the prospect of transferring all my info to a new computer, but it would be nice to have everything bigger, faster and more up-to-date. Stay in touch.

FLANAGAN NOTES AND THEORIES
By Vivian Jordan, Feb 1999

"PASSENGER Arrivals into Port of Baltimore, MD, 1820-1834"

Found "a" Philip Flannagan 50 yrs, farmer from Grt. Britain (which would make him b ca 1777). Came over 30 Sep 1827

"Proceedings from Orphans Court, Baltimore Co., MD, 1778-1787"

Found in WB 1, 'Philip Flanagan, 8 yrs, 2 Aug next, is bound to Thomas Burgis, a wheelwright on 10 Apr 1782' pp 68,69 (This could possibly be the Philip that is head of household in 1810 Lincoln Co., NC, this needs more research vj)

VJ found in NC Archives in 1984:

A statement or will made by a soldier, John Flinagin(sic), on 19 Aug 1813, Lincoln County, NC., stating that he had enlisted in the Army for 5 yrs and is making his will. He names his mother, Susana, as his heir. Names his father as Philip. He wants his estate, if he dies, to be divided between his bros. and sisters (doesn't name the siblings!!). This will was recorded on July-Sep 1814

Found in Wythe Co., VA deeds where on 23 Feb 1857, Philip Flanagans farm of 168 acs is being sold by the Sheriff because of unpaid debts.....

A McLaughlin correspondent, snm@horizon.hit.net Sam McLaughlin, tells me that he is a descendant of Elizabeth McLaughlin b ca 1808, Rural Retreat, Wythe Co., VA. And that his records show that she married a Philip Flanagan. I already knew that Elizabeth's father was Eli, but I hadn't known that he had been murdered 7 Nov 1816 by John Elliott, this is from the Russell Co.,VA Court records for 16 Nov 1816, p 350. My correspondent also informed me that Mary Wampler McLaughlin, Eli's widow, married a Jacob King (Koenig) in 1822. Some of the children stayed with her, he says, and others with her brother.
Charles Flanagan, of Crockett, VA, another correspondent has obtained the original records of this murder and the will records are invaluable as they list the children of Eli and Mary W. McLaughlin.

Correspondence with Flanagan cousins tell me that after the death of Elizabeth McLaughlin(McGlothin), Philip, while in Hawkins Co., TN m an Ellen Dunn on the 19 Feb 1867.

Oct 2000 Diane Keeton has added a few more tidbits from Hawkins Co., TN on Philip. She, too, found the 2nd m of Philip to Ellen Dunn (some have read it Davis. I will take Diane's reading). She went further in checking on Ellen Dunn. She found her parents in 1860 census of Hawkins, Ephriam and Bettie. In 1870 is Ephriam and Elizabeth with Ellen Felanegan, age 32 and Margaret Felanegan, age 3 yrs.
I accidentally found the marriage of Philip Flanagan and Parthena Hunter 12 Jan 1879 in Anderson Co., TN. Parthena had two children, obviously from another marriage for they carry the surname in the census of HUNTER. I also found in
